What were the strong points of the session?

- The panel as a whole was tremendously valuable. I so appreciated the interagency perspective and comments from weathered info officers.
- To hear about how these Type I Info Officers see the future of information and possible solutions to problems.
- This session had a nice low-key feeling that spurred some interesting discussion. I think Bob had some interesting insights about future trends (he stuck to the session objectives).
- On the ground experience by two of the best IOFs around. Excellent session.
- The been there or done that experience from Bob and Jim.
- Good discussion; Paxon is always “insightful”...

- Complementary instructors – the methodical and thoughtful and the intuitive showman. Good to know that some of what I was seeing as trends are.
- Very helpful conversation.
- Excellent to put a face to a name (Paxton), who I thought had a number of excellent comments and suggestions regarding information work. Bob was very insightful regarding the “trends” he believed to be coming down the pike.
- Both speakers had important stuff to say. Like Bob’s wish list for future.

What were the weak points of the session and how would you change them for the better?

- There were no weak points.

Other comments:

- Excellent session!
